Here is a remarkable vintage tour-de-force of the Fifties, in which Stuart Benton explores the range of human experience from the sublime to the exotically degrading. In the world at large, Mao Zedong emerged as a symbol of the anti-establishment, grassroots populism, and self-determination.

EventhoughloyaltoMao,Huawasaneconomicmodernizer.Hence the counter-intuitive state of affairs where, despite political representation for the poor in India and the lack of political participation in China, Beijing trumps New Delhi on the delivery of basic public goods like roads, drains and schools. Looking forward, Asians are projected to become the largest immigrant group in the country, surpassing Hispanics in
